7AM & 7 PM P.S.T.

Hosted by Opal Singleton

Human Trafficking and Child Pornography expert, Opal has educated tens of thousands of first responders, government agencies, civic leaders, school administrators, medical personnel, faith-based organizations and parents and grandparents about how predators operate and how to prevent young people from becoming victims of exploitation. Opal is an Instructor at USC, Sol Price Institute for Safe Communities. Opal sits on the Board of Directors of Rapha House International and has lived and worked in Cambodia combating child sex trafficking. Opal authored the 5 star Amazon Book “Seduced: The Grooming of America’s Teenagers.” Million Kids serves as the Training and Outreach Coordinator for the Riverside County Anti Human Trafficking Task Force and is contracted for human trafficking training services through the Riverside County Sheriff’s Department through a Department of Justice Contract. Opal often sits with parents searching for their missing children and takes calls from teens who are in trouble.. Simply stated: Opal cares deeply about kids and their families.

For many years Opal has examined every published case of human trafficking in the US (and often globally) as well as every child pornography case. She follows technology trends and looks for new technologies and strategies that are being used by perpetrators to access, groom, recruit and exploit young people. EXPLOITED: Crimes Against Humanity is designed to share that knowledge and insight with the world, especially those individuals who may work with crimes and/or children.

Join in the dialogue. We will be taking live calls from the audience and we plan to interview some of the best minds in the business. We want to get to know YOU and share as much expertise as fast as we can so we can say NEVER AGAIN should another human being be needlessly exploited.
